

This is a box that is perfectly sized to hold 8 Hershey's Nuggets – and I love it not just because I can see the versatility of this little gift for many occasions, but because it is such a very affordable way to give a little gift...perfect for teacher gifts and shower & party favors...

You need no special equipment – all you need to make it is a sheet of colored cardstock, a piece of ribbon and the stamp set and inks you wish to use – there are no Dies to purchase – you simply cut, score, fold and assemble...

Firstly cut your piece of colored cardstock to size – I used Old Olive Textured cardstock and you need to cut 2 pieces at 5" x 4". Score both pieces 1" from each edge – lay one piece down and ink up a wheel or stamps and make a pretty border all the way along it – the box above uses the Retro Remix Wheel (pg 205) stamped with Old Olive ink. This is your top piece – take a 3/4" Circle Punch and punch a half-circle notch on each long side as shown below:

At each short end, take your scissors and cut 1" along the score line until you reach the intersecting line – do this 4 times – fold in the flaps to assemble your lid and adhere with strong adhesive such as Sticky Strip. Take a piece of ribbon approximately 10" in length and 3" from one end tie a knot in it – wrap around the box lid and adhere to the insides of the lid.

Stamp your images on a piece of cardstock measuring 1 3/4" x 1 1/4" – I used stamps from the set Hello Again to stamp a flower and sentiment and used Dimensionals to attach it to the lid.

To create the base, assemble as you did for the lid and put in your gift – I used 8 Hershey's Nuggets and covered each using Designer Series Papers from the Cottage Wall pack – simply cut your papers to be 1" wide by 3" long and wrap around each nugget securing with Sticky Strip – then put 2 layers of 4 nuggets into the box and not only is the outside of the box pretty, but the inside is too...

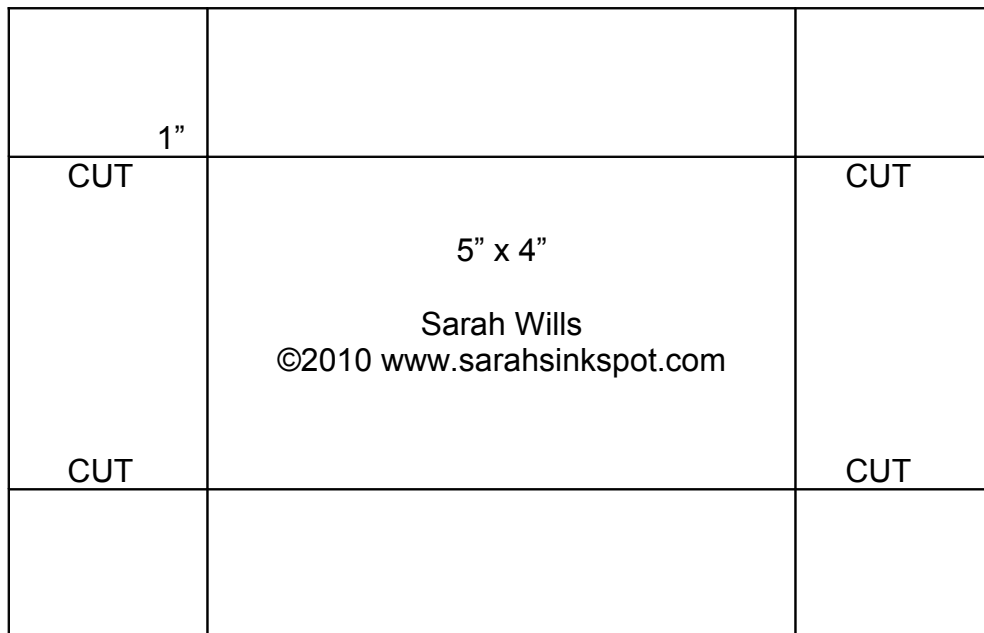

Pop the lid on and there you have a very economical and cute gift just perfect for saying thank you...

How to make a box that holds 8 Hershey's Nuggets

- Cut two pieces of cardstock sized 5" x 4"
- Measure in 1" from each side and score down the length of the cardstock – you will end up with 4 score lines on each piece of cardstock as shown below by the lines
- Lay one piece down and ink up a wheel or stamps and make a pretty border all the way along it – if you use the same color ink as cardstock you will end up with a neat watermarked effect. This is your top piece - take a 3/4" Circle Punch and punch a half-circle notch on each long side
- At each short end, take your scissors and cut 1" along the score line until you reach the intersecting line as shown below - do this 4 times on each piece of cardstock - to assemble, fold along the score lines and fold in the flaps - adhere with strong adhesive such as Sticky Strip.
- Decorate as desired and pop in your gift – this box is designed to perfectly hold 8 nuggets – 4 nuggets per layer
