

Dracula in his Coffin Halloween Treat Box

Here is a super cute treat that is fun & easy to make, and is perfect for kids & grown ups alike! Here is this sweet box opened...Dracula is on a piece of folded acetate so that you can bend him forwards to fill the box with candy and then fold him back again...

And here it is closed:

Supplies I used to make this project:

- Die: Home Sweet Home Thinlits (140279)
- Stamps: Cookie Cutter Halloween (CM 142255/WM 142252), Jar of Haunts (142247)
- Punch: Cookie Cutter Builder (140396)
- Twine: Halloween Night Bakers Twine (142027)
- Cardstocks: Basic Black (121045), Whisper White (100730), Real Red (102482)
- Ink: Tuxedo Black Memento (132708)
- Adhesive: Mini Glue Dots (103683)
- Misc: Acetate, Candy

Take the house shaped die from Home Sweet Home Thinlits and use it in your Big Shot to cut the shape from black cardstock...

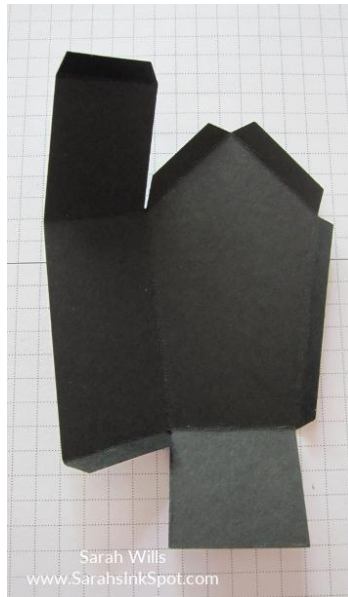

Repeat, so that you have two pieces...

Next, you need to make a cut on the long edges - take one of your die cut shapes and line up your ruler with the score line shown below - draw a pencil line from the bottom to the top and use your paper trimmer to cut along it...and then repeat for the other piece...

Take one piece and fold along the score lines...

Add glue dots or use Snail adhesive along those tabs and secure in place...

Take the second die cut piece and cut off the small black square flap at the bottom. Then fold along the score lines ...

And use adhesive to attach to the first piece- and there is your basic coffin shape...

You can cut off the tabs on the lid or leave them - I have done both and I have found that whilst I like the look of the tabs cut off, the lid stays in place better with them on.

If you wish, you can line the interior of your coffin with red cardstock or even tissue paper - I have lined just the base of mine with red cardstock - to do this, I use the same die to cut that front panel and simply trimmed it to size with my paper trimmer...

Dracula is stamped using a stamp from Cookie Cutter Halloween and I shaped him using the coordinating Cookie Cutter Builder Punch.

I then cut a strip of acetate and folded it...

I attached him to one end and the other end I attached to the inside of the coffin - Mini Glue Dots are perfect for this...

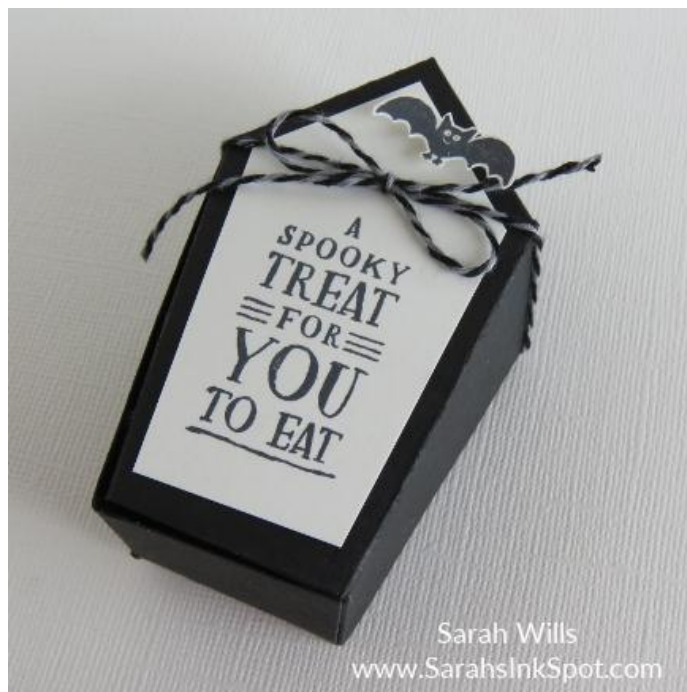

And then to fill your box with candy, simply unfold the acetate & pop it in...

And then fold him back down again to close...

You can then decorate the lid however you would like and add a piece of Bakers Twine to keep the lid shut...
